Conversations on the governments new Medium Term Plan, thoughts from the Opposition on the priorities for the next 5 years, how may MPs participate in the SDGs and the voice of business will be heard in this informative session.

LUNCH 1230

SESSION 3: CONNECTING THE SILK ROAD 1400

The economic transformation of China remains one of the greatest achievement of human civilisation. Where large tracks of their citizens have moved from poverty directly into the middle class in less than 20 years. The city of Shenzhen is often referred to as a prime example. Where a sleepy fishing town of 40000 in the southern province of Guangdong has transformed in 40 years to be a global technological, financial and trade hub to rival San Francisco, London and Singapore as a city of the next century. Bank of China has been part of this miracle and we will hear from them what was the driver and what will it take to happen elsewhere. A panel comprising of Members of parliament and thought leaders will discuss: what are the lessons that can be emulated in our country?

SESSION 6 - TAIM BILONG MSMES

1030

The Asia Pacific region has undergone a tremendous transformation of 500 million of its citizens shift from poverty to the middle class in 40 years. This has in part been to the rapid industrialization and improvements in education and health services. Of these, only 10 million are Micro Small Medium Enterprises where only 10% are actively trading on the internet. Leading analysts have agreed that if regional and national systems grew and migrated MSMEs to the digital economy, the transformation of the next 500 million will be achieved in less than 10 years. Papua New Guinea MSMEs are in this exciting region of collaboration with their counterparts and no doubt unleash supply and value chain frameworks that will make our people part of the next 500 million.

Bessi Graham of Benefit Capital will lead the discussions with an informative presentation of her fund's bold desire to establish an MSME fund and what are the key features that will drive support to these exciting entrepreneurs. A panel consisting of MPs, Ministers and thought leaders will discuss what will it take to make our people part of the 500 million middle class.

SESSION 7: GROWING A GREATER PNG

1200

Members of Parliament are increasingly using technology, social media and innovation to drive the delivery of services and changes in their electorate. This session explores the rules that must be in place to build partnerships with business and other stakeholders in upgrading vital tools and relationships to grow a greater Papua New Guinea.
